Can Algorand Reach $20?

Algorand has recently been on an uptrend as the number of projects onboarding to the network continues to rise. The number of governments choosing to launch projects on Algorand could act as a catalyst for further adoption and upward price action for the ALGO token. The network has also upgraded to a more decentralized model, which includes a DeFi ecosystem with the advantage of being a non-forkable, low-fee and a layer 1 ecosystem. A robust suite of DeFi apps should cause an increase in the ALGO price, but for Algorand to reach $20, the overall crypto market must remain quite bullish. This is not investment advice and only speculation because crypto price predictions are merely conjecture.
