Ethereum Price Prediction: Will ETH Fall to $1,500?

Due to a significant dip over the last day, Ethereum (ETH), the second-largest cryptocurrency in the world, appears to be having trouble and is about to face a sharp price decline. Ether broke through one of its key support levels, which it had been holding since December 2023, on March 4, 2025, with a 12% price decline.

Ethereum (ETH) Technical Analysis

As a result of this breakdown, market sentiment has turned quite negative. Expert technical analysis indicates that ETH is now in a bearish trend, having dropped below the $2,200 support line. The route for the altcoin's price to continue falling has been cleared after this breakdown.

In light of the current market conditions and past trends, it is highly probable that Ethereum (ETH) might see a 26% decline to hit $1,500, the next support level, in the near future, if the daily candle closes below the $2,065 level.

Since its price has been falling steadily, Ethereum (ETH) has dipped below the 200 EMA on the daily timeframe, suggesting that it is currently in a downtrend.

Positive On-Chain Indicators

According to the blockchain-based transaction tracker Lookonchain and the on-chain analytics company CoinGlass, whales and long-term investors appear to be hoarding the token despite the adverse price action and ongoing price decline.

Whales Purchase $10.40M in Ethereum

Lookonchain has reported on X (formerly Twitter) that a crypto whale going by the name of 7 siblings has spent $10.36 million to buy 4,993 ETH at an average price of $2,075. This crypto whale has amassed a staggering 1,157,000 ETH, or $2.4 billion, in two wallets, thanks to their massive ETH accumulation.

But on February 25, they spent 28.75 million DAI tokens and acquired 12,070 ETH, at an average price of $2,382 level, during their previous buy.

Exit of $130 Million in Ether

In addition to the increased interest from whales in the face of a price decline, it seems that long-term holders have amassed a substantial amount of ETH tokens. Exchanges have seen a substantial outflow of ETH worth $130 million in the past 24 hours, according to data from spot inflow/outflow, which suggests possible buildup.

In spite of all these token sales and purchases, ETH is down more than 12% in the last 24 hours and is trading near $2,070. At the same time, its trading volume fell by 12%, suggesting fewer traders and investors were involved, which could have contributed to the wildly fluctuating prices.

How to Trade Crypto on BTCC?

This brief instruction will assist you in registering for and trading on the BTCC exchange.

Step 1: Register an account

The first step is to hit the “Sign Up” button on the BTCC website or app. Your email address and a strong password are all you need. After completing that, look for a verification email in your inbox. To activate your account, click the link in the email.

Step 2: Finish the KYC

The Know Your Customer (KYC) procedure is the next step after your account is operational. The main goal of this stage is to maintain compliance and security. You must upload identification, such as a passport or driver's license. You'll receive a confirmation email as soon as your documents are validated, so don't worry—it's a quick process.

Step 3. Deposit Funds

After that, adding money to your account is simple. BTCC provides a range of payment options, such as credit cards and bank transfers. To get your money into your trading account, simply choose what works best for you, enter the amount, and then follow the instructions.

BTCC FAQs

Is BTCC safe?

Based on its track record since 2011, BTCC has established itself as a secure cryptocurrency exchange. There have been no reports of fraudulent activity involving user accounts or the platform's infrastructure. By enforcing mandatory know-your-customer (KYC) and anti-money laundering (AML) procedures, the cryptocurrency trading platform gives consumers greater security. For operations like withdrawals, it also provides extra security features like two-factor authentication (2FA).

Is KYC Necessary for BTCC?

Indeed. Before using BTCC goods, users must finish the Know Your Customer (KYC) process. A facial recognition scan and legitimate identification documents must be submitted for this process. Usually, it is finished in a few minutes. This procedure has the benefit of strengthening the security of the exchange and satisfying legal requirements.

Because their accounts will have a lower daily withdrawal limit, those who do not finish their KYC are unable to make deposits. It should be noted that those who present a legitimate ID without a facial recognition scan will likewise have restricted withdrawal options.

Is There a Mobile App for BTCC?

Indeed. For users of iOS and Android, BTCC has a mobile app. The exchange's website offers the mobile app for download. Since both the web version and the mobile app have the same features and capabilities, they are comparable.

Will I Have to Pay BTCC Trading Fees?

Indeed. BTCC levies a fee for trade, just like a lot of other centralised exchanges. Each user's VIP level, which is unlocked according to their available money, determines the different costs. The BTCC website provides information on the charge rates.

Can I Access BTCC From the U.S?

You can, indeed. According to its website, BTCC has obtained a crypto license from the US Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN), which enables the cryptocurrency exchange to provide its services to investors who are headquartered in the US.

According to BTCC's User Agreement document, its goods are not allowed to be used in nations and organisations that have been sanctioned by the United States or other nations where it has a licence.
