What Triggers Crypto Taxes?

Before diving into the math, understand what events are taxable:

Event	Taxable?	Tax Type	Notes
Buying crypto and holding	No	None	Not a taxable event
Selling crypto for fiat	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	Capital Gains	Based on profit (short/long-term)
Trading crypto-to-crypto	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	Capital Gains	Treated as disposal of asset
Spending crypto on goods/services	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	Capital Gains	Considered a sale at market value
Earning crypto (mining, staking)	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	Ordinary Income	Taxed at acquisition value
Receiving crypto as payment	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	Self-Employment Income	Subject to income tax + SE tax

Event	Taxable?	Tax Type	Notes
Gifting crypto	Usually No	Depends on amount/location	May trigger gift tax over limits

Pro Tip: Use a crypto tax calculator free tool like Koinly or CoinTracker to log and assess these events automatically.

How to Calculate Crypto Tax (Step-by-Step)

Step 1: Track All Transactions

Use tools like:

- CoinTracker
- ZenLedger
- Koinly
- CoinLedger

These platforms import data from major exchanges (Coinbase, Binance, Kraken, etc.), and automatically track:

- Buy/sell dates
- Amounts
- Wallets
- Transaction type
- Fees

Step 2: Calculate Capital Gains or Losses

Crypto tax calculation formula:

Capital Gain/Loss = Proceeds - Cost Basis

- Proceeds = selling price (in fiat) at time of disposal
- Cost Basis = amount you originally paid, including fees

If proceeds > cost basis = capital gain (taxable)

If proceeds < cost basis = capital loss (deductible)

Example:

- Bought 1 ETH for $1,200
- Sold 1 ETH for $2,000
- Capital Gain = $800

This gain will be taxed either as short-term or long-term, depending on how long you held the asset.

Short-Term vs Long-Term Crypto Tax Rates

Holding Period	Tax Type	Typical U.S. Tax Rate
Less than 1 year	Short-term capital gains	10-37% (based on income)
More than 1 year	Long-term capital gains	0-20% (lower brackets)

Reporting Crypto on Taxes (U.S. Focus)

To stay compliant, you'll need to file the following IRS forms:

- Form 8949: Reports each crypto transaction
- Schedule D: Summarizes total capital gains/losses
- Schedule 1 / C: Report crypto income (mining, staking, airdrops)

Global Note:

If you're in Canada, Australia, the UK, or India, consult your country's crypto tax laws. Most treat crypto as an asset, not currency.

BTCC FAQs

Is BTCC safe?

Based on its track record since 2011, BTCC has established itself as a secure cryptocurrency exchange. There have been no reports of fraudulent activity involving user accounts or the platform's infrastructure. By enforcing mandatory know-your-customer (KYC) and anti-money laundering (AML) procedures, the cryptocurrency trading platform gives consumers greater security. For operations like withdrawals, it also provides extra security features like two-factor authentication (2FA).

Is KYC Necessary for BTCC?

Indeed. Before using BTCC goods, users must finish the Know Your Customer (KYC) process. A facial recognition scan and legitimate identification documents must be submitted for this process. Usually, it is finished in a few minutes. This procedure has the benefit of strengthening the security of the exchange and satisfying legal requirements.

Because their accounts will have a lower daily withdrawal limit, those who do not finish their KYC are unable to make deposits. It should be noted that those who present a legitimate ID without a facial recognition scan will likewise have restricted withdrawal options.

Is There a Mobile App for BTCC?

Indeed. For users of iOS and Android, BTCC has a mobile app. The exchange's website offers the mobile app for download. Since both the web version and the mobile app have the same features and capabilities, they are comparable.

Will I Have to Pay BTCC Trading Fees?

Indeed. BTCC levies a fee for trade, just like a lot of other centralised exchanges. Each user's VIP level, which is unlocked according to their available money, determines the different costs. The BTCC website provides information on the charge rates.

Can I Access BTCC From the U.S?

You can, indeed. According to its website, BTCC has obtained a crypto license from the US Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN), which enables the cryptocurrency exchange to provide its services to investors who are headquartered in the US.

According to BTCC's User Agreement document, its goods are not allowed to be used in nations and organisations that have been sanctioned by the United States or other nations where it has a licence.
