In an era where meme coins, AI, and live entertainment converge, Pepe Hunt launches at the perfect intersection. With a mission of gamifying decentralized betting using real-life unpredictability while keeping it fun, ethical, and community-driven — one frog race at a time, Pepe Hunt is the first live-streamed frog racing prediction platform. Powered by real frogs, real wagers, and a meme-powered utility token: $hPEPE, Pepe Hunt blends three things the internet loves: memes, gambling, and unpredictability.

Combining real-world randomness with decentralized betting on a transparent blockchain platform, Pepe Hunt stands out as a fully operational platform where users bet on which real-life frog will eat the bug first, broadcast live in a custom arena. Notably, the randomness isn't coded, it's biological. Each frog has its own quirks, speed, and mood. Winners are paid out instantly, and the chaos is completely unscripted.
