Based on the predictions provided by CNN, Rivian stock may show an upward movement. However, you should conduct in-depth research before making any decision.

Should I buy Rivian stock?

Rivian is a high-risk stock with a speculative outlook. Competition in the EV market will continue to increase, and Rivian needs to prove it can outrun its rivals and manage the growth of its business cost-effectively.

If you believe in Rivian's vision and consider its technology better than Tesla, then Rivian stock at its current price could be a nice buy. However, the stop loss must be kept under January 2024 low of $15.28. The company will announce its Q4 2022 earnings on 28th Feb. A positive earnings report can send the stock price above $25, however, a significant drop in revenue could make things really ugly.
