The tectonic team issued a warning to its users a week ago about a phony airdrop effort inspired by the recent success of the $TONIC coin. Users should be wary of such phony efforts, the team warned its investors, and they are not holding any sort of airdrop.

Hi Tectonians ☺

☺It has come to our attention that there is a fake airdrop campaign being conducted in our name and we are in no way associated with the campaign host nor the campaign. We are also not hosting any airdrop campaigns at the moment. Stay safe fam ☺

The phenomenon known as “fear of missing out” (FOMOing) suggests that a large number of potential investors will try to get in on TONIC before any expected future growth. If you're considering investing in the cryptocurrency market, whether it be TONIC or another coin, you should do your homework beforehand.

□ \$TONIC airdrop snapshot was successfully completed on 22 January at around 11:51am UTC, Cronos block #1139888.
