What Exactly is Toon Finance (TFT)?

Toon Finance is an emerging Web3 ecosystem that simplifies decentralized finance by hosting a one-stop shop for trading, exchanging, and bridging cryptocurrencies. The project, launched by an accomplished team of market leaders and blockchain developers, aims to fix the externality that surrounds the P2E gaming demand by featuring a P2E metaverse backed by SHA256 encryption.

The platform allows you to exchange your favorite ERC20 Ethereum tokens without compromising on safety and security. Since you don't have to go through the hassles of registration, it allows you to connect and disconnect your wallet any time you wish. It brings real-time aggregated data using fast servers. The ecosystem also includes Space Farming, Space Grounds, Space Bridge, Space Lotto, and Payload Pools — all dedicated to bringing decentralized finance to the masses.

Dive into the Toon Finance Ecosystem

Here is a closer look at the Toon Finance ecosystem and why the crypto community is raving about it:

1. Space Exchange is the flagship product of Toon Finance

The flagship product from Toon Finance is Space Exchange, which is unlike any decentralized or centralized exchange we've seen in the market to date. The platform simplifies crypto trading for both crypto and non-crypto users with a modest learning curve. It is expected to go live soon.

The platform's goal is to bring more users to decentralized finance, and cryptocurrencies in general, by lowering the technical barrier to the industry. Traders who face problems while using the services will receive technical assistance, which offers a great competitive edge to the platform.

2. Space Farming offers optimized yield farming opportunities

The next feature that has got investors all psyched up is Space Farming. As the name implies, it is a yield farming platform where users can stake their cryptocurrencies to receive rewards. You can become a 'farmer' on Toon Finance by staking your crypto in a Space Pool. When you lend your crypto assets to the pool, it is used to mint new coins.

Depending on the size of your contribution and the duration of staking, you will receive exciting rewards in exchange. The more you stake, the more the rewards. Make sure you understand the risks involved in yield farming before adding your funds to the pools.

3. Space Grounds takes P2E games to the next level

Space Grounds is a Toony game where you play against a random fellow gamer to win exciting rewards. According to the whitepaper, the game developers are working on “new and 100% secure algorithms which will bring you from the war-zone into the Space battleground metaverse where you can have it your way in checkers and coin battle”.

4. Space Bridge - Web3 solution

Another key feature of Toon Finance is Space Bridge, a Web3 solution that enables communication and interoperability between two separate blockchain networks. The platform facilitates the exchange of value or data between the two connected blockchains with ease. It can be used to connect different protocols, assets, or dApps. Basically, it creates a trustless connection between two separate blockchains through smart contracts.

Early investors can claim their tokens soon after the presale ends.

Toon Finance Price Prediction

TFT has a visionary roadmap designed to leverage the full potential of decentralized finance. As Toon Finance rolls out its products and features, the demand for the token is expected to take off, boosting its value.

If rumors are to be believed, Toon Finance has already secured top-tier DEX and CEX partnerships, giving a 10X-15X push to the token from presale price on the first few listings. Moreover, the platform will burn 10% of the total supply before providing liquidity pairs to the native DEX and Uniswap.

By the first half of 2023, we expect TFT to climb 25X-30X in response to the newly launched features and products. Like all promising crypto projects, the token will likely witness a bull run as it grows its user base, roping in more partnerships and integrations. Given that the project sticks to its roadmap, we predict a 50X growth for the token toward the end of 2023.

Why Invest in TFT Tokens?

- Toon Finance is building a large, decentralized ecosystem with diverse use cases for TFT tokens.
