What is Banana Gun?

Banana Gun, a groundbreaking cryptocurrency project, offers a Telegram bot that empowers users to manually acquire and swiftly seize tokens on the Ethereum blockchain. Ambitiously eyeing expansion across multiple blockchain networks and armed with a distinctive tokenomics model, this project has garnered considerable interest among traders.

According to the project's manual, the Banana Gun crypto bot actually consists of three bots. One bot serves the registration process, the second one is for buying cryptos manually or in an automated manner, and the third one is for selling cryptocurrencies. Banana Gun stands out from its competitors for its superior convenience and lightning-fast speed. Banana Gun is currently one of Telegram's top five trading bots, along with Unibot, Mizar, Maestro, and Wagie Bot.

How does Banana Gun Work?

To use the BANANA crypto bot, you need the Telegram app. The latter is available in mobile and desktop versions. You must join the Banan Gun registration Bot to complete the registration.

Next, you can buy cryptocurrencies with the Banana Gun sniper robot and sell them with the Banana Gun sell bot. Both bots can be accessed through the project's official website.

After registration, you can use this bot to automatically buy upcoming cryptocurrencies, manually buy existing tokens, and sell the tokens you own. Of course, each option comes with some basic Settings. You can see these Settings in the Banana documentation, which is essentially a manual on how to use a project robot.

The BANANA token is the native cryptocurrency of the Banana Gun crypto project. It is a fungible token that lives on the Ethereum chain, where it was minted on September 14, 2023. To ensure that "Banana Ecosystem" is sustainable, the Banana Gun team deploys three key mechanisms:

- Revenue Share: This mechanism is for $BANANA holders, allowing them to claim a share of the Banana Gun crypto project's revenue. The latter comes from the bot's revenue and the token's buy/sell tax. Users who want to join in on this revenue share need to hold the $BANANA cryptocurrency.
- Banana Bonus: This applies to the Banana Gun bot users, who get rewards in $BANANA. The source of this bonus is the bot's fees - 0.5% on manual buys and 1% on autosniper buys.
- Banana Burn: The team promises to build extra features that will require holding or burning $BANANA. So, for now, token burn events can be arranged on special occasions by the Banana Gun team.
